

A Wonderful Day (The Day After Corona)

What a day, what a day, oh how wonderful this day,
such a wonderful day that is what I want to stay.
What a day, what a day, oh how wonderful this day,
such a wonderful day that is what I want to stay.

Such a day is really rare that I looked for anywhere,
such a day is really rare that I looked for anywhere,
What a day, what a day, oh how wonderful this day,
such a wonderful day that is what I want to stay.

Such a day is back for long, I looked forward very strong.
Such a day is back for long, I looked forward very strong.
What a day, what a day, oh how wonderful this day,
such a wonderful day that is what I want to stay.

The sunshine and blue sky are not only for the bird,
so much people glad and luck all they love to stand in line.
Any may, any want spread out now in wide, wide world,
free of force free of fear now they hug each other fine.

Look the children how they romp round, running laughing back and forth,
and above the young nice couple, love each other even more.
How the mother and the father looking well for kids they cried,
and the edged there with the cat smile like the young enamored dyad.

Anybody now is happy that they passed the dire straits,
and to breathing in and out free no one more now have to waits.
Look the children how they romp round, running laughing back and forth,
and above the young nice couple, love each other even more.

Anybody now is happy that they passed the dire straits,
and to breathing in and out free no one more now have to waits.
How the mother and the father looking well for kids they cried,
